Legal & Professional Services - AI Employees Register

The legal & professional services industry across the world - AI Employees register

Owner's ask (5 Nov 2026): "NOW A LEGAL AND PROFESSIONAL SERVICES INDUSTRY AI EMPLOYEES". Twenty-third in the series. Legal and professional services here means: advocates, law firms and in-house legal teams; courts-facing litigation practice; corporate and commercial law; intellectual property; arbitration, mediation and legal aid; notaries, document writers and registrars; chartered accountants, auditors and tax practitioners; company secretaries; consultants (management, engineering, IT, ESG); HR, recruitment, staffing and payroll firms; BPO/KPO and IT-services shops; valuers, surveyors and translators; and the bar councils, institutes and regulators that license them. Banking/finance practice (CA work for companies) was partly covered in the finance register (BF#101-118); government courts and registries in the government register (GV#84-97); both are cross-referenced, not repeated.

13 fields, 138 candidate AI Employees.

How honest this is

- No new web research for this file and no sourced job census in the repo: domain knowledge, not sourced. Rules named are from memory and must be re-checked on primary text per country and profession before any desk is built: in India the Advocates Act 1961 and Bar Council of India Rules (including the limits on advertising and solicitation, duty of confidentiality, and professional conduct), the Bharatiya Sakshya Adhiniyam 2023 provisions on privileged communications, BNS/BNSS, CPC, the Limitation Act, the Arbitration and Conciliation Act, the Mediation Act 2023, IBC, the Companies Act and LLP Act, ICAI and ICSI codes of ethics and their certification powers, the Notaries Act, the Registration Act, the Legal Services Authorities Act, DPDP Act 2023 (lawyers and firms as data fiduciaries), court practice directions on use of AI and on citations; abroad ABA Model Rules (competence, confidentiality, supervision of non-lawyer assistance), UK SRA/Law Society guidance, EU AI Act (administration of justice is a high-risk use), and the many court sanctions imposed on lawyers who filed unverified AI-generated citations.
- Already in Hoola (extend, do not rebuild): Lawyer's junior (`legal_junior` with tools `vakil` / `vakil_dekho`: court diary, hearing dates, cause list, limitation estimate, drafts for the advocate, client update drafts, fee ledger; filing, messages and fee demands on her tap), Legal researcher (`legal_research`: Acts and judgments from official sources with the source for every statement; prior-law-to-new-law tables; memo goes out only on her yes), Company secretary (`cosec_work`: MCA form dates, board/AGM notices and minutes, registers; sending and filing on her tap), Notary & documentation desk (`notary_work`: affidavit, declaration, POA, indemnity and NOC drafts from the party's facts, stamp duty only from her rate table, register and receipts, apostille steps; final print on her yes), Compliance officer (`compliance_work`), `hr_admin`, the Enterprise regtech desk (due calendar), Pehchaan Locker (masked IDs), the Doc Studio and HOOLA PRINT (court-formatted PDFs), the research engine (R0-R9: cited dossiers, claim checks, figure checks), Notebook, pylab, Khata (client dues), PAISA, WhatsApp opt-in, voice in Indian languages, and `appmaker`. Roles with * exist in some form. The Mera-PC freeze is untouched.

The findings that shape every legal & professional desk

1. The professional licence is personal: only the advocate, CA, CS, notary or auditor practises; the AI is a supervised assistant, never the practitioner

Ladder as before: A admin/prepare, B assist (research / draft / check / calculate for a named professional), C reserved. Reserved here: giving legal, tax, audit or valuation opinions to clients as a practitioner; appearing before a court or tribunal; signing, verifying or filing pleadings, returns, certificates, audit reports or registered documents; attesting or notarising; certifying a company secretarial or CA matter; deciding conflicts of interest; negotiating and binding a client to a deal; settling money; arbitral and judicial decisions; disciplinary matters; and any statement of fact to a court. Unauthorised practice of law and unauthorised professional certification are offences in many places. The AI must never be presented to the public as a lawyer or CA. It researches, drafts, organises, calculates, reminds and checks; the professional reviews, signs and takes responsibility. Hoola's existing employees already carry this wording.

2. The biggest AI risk in this industry is the fabricated authority: hallucinated cases, sections and figures

Courts around the world have sanctioned lawyers for citing non-existent cases produced by AI. Therefore every legal statement carries a source the lawyer can open (official gazette, India Code, court website, SCC-type database the firm licenses), a quote check against the text, a date for currency, and an "unverified" label when it cannot verify. Hoola's research engine already refuses to state a figure or authority that no fetched page or calculation supports; the legal desks reuse that gate. No citation leaves the system unless the cited text was fetched and the proposition matched.

3. Confidentiality and privilege are the product's foundation

Client files are privileged. Sending a client's facts to an unvetted model or tool can waive privilege and breach duties. Hoola's rules for this industry: per-client (matter) separation, no cross-matter learning, no training on client data, redaction defaults, secrets masked, access logs, retention policy, data-localisation options, and the Pehchaan Locker for IDs. Conflicts checks and ethical walls are enforced in the data model, not by hope.

4. Most of the industry is small: solo advocates, small CA/CS practices, notary desks, staffing agencies and consultants who run on WhatsApp, diaries and Excel

Pain: dates and limitation, client communication, document drafting from templates, fee follow-up, bundle preparation, compliance calendars, notices from departments, TDS/GST due dates, bookkeeping of many small clients, onboarding KYC, and winning clients without breaching advertising limits. A voice/WhatsApp-native practice copilot with strict human review is the most valuable product, and it fits Hoola's owner-copilot pattern.

5. Access to justice is a public good; the AI must be careful in that role

Ordinary people also need help (rent disputes, consumer complaints, wills, labour claims). Plain-language information, forms and next-step guidance with referral to legal aid is valuable; presenting it as individual legal advice, or discouraging a person from getting a lawyer where one is needed, is harmful. Information-not-advice labelling, jurisdiction and date shown, and a human referral path are mandatory.

NEVER an AI Employee (tier C)

Appear in court or before a tribunal; sign, verify or file pleadings, returns, certificates, audit reports, registered documents or attestations as the professional; give legal, tax, audit or valuation opinions to a client or the public as if licensed; decide conflicts of interest; bind a client to a settlement or contract; handle client money; certify a company-secretarial, CA, notarial or valuer matter; issue judgments, awards or disciplinary decisions; cite any case, statute, section or figure it has not verified from the source text; reveal or use privileged or confidential client information outside the matter; train on client files; advertise or solicit in breach of professional rules; scrape paid legal databases against licences; discriminate in hiring or screening on protected traits; present itself as a lawyer or CA.

Suggested build order

1. Wave 1 - extend the existing six (tier A, practice copilots for solo advocates, small CA/CS firms, notary desks): 1-2, 10-15, 21, 22, 47, 48, 57, 58, 61, 62, 67, 73, 98 + 27, 43, 75, 97.
2. Wave 2 - verified research and drafting with a named professional: 3-9, 17-20, 23-26, 28-30, 34, 37, 38, 39, 49-53, 63-66, 74, 99, 101, 102, 104, 119, 127, 133-138.

3. Wave 3 - regulated, judgement-heavy or sensitive: 16, 31-33, 35, 40-42, 44, 45, 54-56, 59, 70, 71, 80, 81, 100, 106, 107, 111, 121-126 - need senior review, ethical walls, bias tests, appeal paths. Fit to Hoola: department "Legal & Professional Services" beside Finance & Banking; Hoola already has five legal/compliance employees (Lawyer's junior, Legal researcher, Company secretary, Notary desk, Compliance officer) and the verified-research engine, so Wave 1-2 is mostly completing the suite and enforcing the citation-verification gate everywhere. Reuse the research engine's claim and figure checks as the Citation & Quote Verifier, Doc Studio and HOOLA PRINT (court-ready PDFs), Notebook (matter notes), Khata/PAISA (fees), WhatsApp opt-in and voice (client communication in Indian languages), Pehchaan Locker (KYC), pylab (limitation and compensation calculators, financial models), `appmaker` (client portals), approval cards for every filing, message and fee demand, and strict per-matter separation with an audit trail. Best first pilots: (a) a solo advocate or small chamber (1-5, 10, 13-15, 21, 22) in a district court - diary, limitation, drafts with verified citations, client updates, fee follow-up; (b) a small CA/CS practice (47-50, 57, 61, 62, 67) - deadline and notice management by WhatsApp; (c) a notary/deed-writer desk (73-75); (d) the citizen legal information guide (133-138) as a mass-market trust product with legal-aid referral. Large firms and courts come later: security reviews, ethical walls and procurement are heavy.

Open questions for the owner

- Which side first: advocates/chambers, CA/CS practices, notary and deed-writer desks, in-house legal teams, HR/staffing agencies, consultancies, or citizens (information only)? I'd start with advocates plus small CA/CS because the employees exist.
- Authority gate: confirm that no citation, section or judgment is shown as authority unless the text was fetched from an official or licensed source and the proposition matched, and that unverified items are labelled in red; confirm the firm's own subscribed databases are used only under their licences.
- Confidentiality: confirm per-matter separation, no training on client data, redaction defaults, and data-localisation options before any firm pilot; decide whether Newtika offers on-premise or dedicated-tenant hosting for law firms.
- Public information boundary: confirm the "information, not advice; ask a lawyer/legal-aid" wording, and that Hoola never presents itself as a lawyer or CA.
